Subject: TDI is Awarded an Export Achievement Certificate

For Immediate Release

Hackettstown, N.J. – April 9, 2006. The U.S. Department of Commerce has announced that it will honor Transistor Devices, Inc (TDI) with an Export Achievement Certificate. The certificate was awarded in recognition of TDI's successful entry into the Japanese marketplace. TDI recently starting shipping power supplies to a Japanese company. Origin, also a power supply manufacturer, was in need of specialized units that were not available in Japan. TDI is providing the power supplies and this new power partnership should prove to be quite fruitful, benefiting both TDI and Origin.

TDI will be holding an awards ceremony on May 7, at 11:30 am at our Hackettstown facility, in acceptance of this honor. Congressman Scott Garrett and Gabe Pellathy, Acting Deputy General Director, as well as several U.S. Department of Commerce officials will be on site to bestow this award. There will also be factory tours following the proceedings.
